Abstract

The invention relates to substituted 4-,6- or 7hydroxyindoles with N-oxide groups, processes for their preparation, pharmaceutical preparations which comprise these compounds, and the pharmaceutical use of these compounds, which are inhibitors of phosphodiesterase 4, as active ingredients for the treatment of disorders influenced by inhibition which can be 4 activity in particular in phosphodiesterase (e.g. macrophages and immunocompetent cells lymphocytes) by the compounds of the invention.

pu/ANM/30369P DE-04.24.2003